RAIL WAGE DECISION NOW UP TO UNION CHIEFS

TAFT IS NAMED U. S. CHIEF JUSTICE

NOMINATION IS CONFIRMED BY SENATE 60 TO 4

Appointment Made so Taft Can Help in Judicial Reorganization

WASHINGTON, D. C. — William Howard Taft, president of the United States from March 4, 1909, until March 4, 1913, was nominated by President Harding late Thursday to be chief justice of the supreme court of the United States, and the nomination was confirmed by the senate a few hours later by a vote of 60 to 4.

Mr. Taft succeeds the late Edward Douglas White, whom he appointed to the office in 1910.

Three republican senators and one democrat voted to prevent Mr. Taft from achieving the cherished ambition of his life. They were: Borah of Idaho, Johnson of California, La Follette of Wisconsin, and Watson of Georgia, democrats.

1912 Reason for Split

Mr. Taft's nomination to fill the vacancy occasioned by the recent death of Chief Justice Edward Douglas White, was sent to the senate early in the afternoon. Immediately thereafter a few rumblings of dissatisfaction were heard from progressive republican senators, who have not relished Mr. Taft politically since the disastrous party split in 1912. But there was no revolt and an effort by Senator Kellogg to bring about confirmation without delay in the judiciary committee was successfully engineered.

When the committee reported the nomination favorably in executive session and unanimous consent was obtained for immediate consideration, there was brief debate. Senator Knox of Pennsylvania urged confirmation from the republican side and Senator Underwood of Alabama, the minority leader, supported the nomination from the democratic side.

Borah Leads Opposition

Senator Borah made the principal speech in opposition to confirmation. He declared that Mr. Taft had been separated from the law for thirty years and had devoted most of his life to politics. During his political career he said, Mr. Taft had never tried a case nor presided as a judge. He also called attention to the fact that Mr. Taft is 63 years old, within seven years of the judicial retirement age.

"We took a great lawyer from the bench and shoved him into politics," he said.

ALL AUTHORITIES UNITE TO ENFORCE AUTOMOBILE LAWS

Sheriff, Chief and Mayor Promise Co-operation in Enforcement of Regulations

Sheriff Edward Miller, Chief of Police J. B. Webber and Mayor A. Bentley have promised vigilant effort on the part of all officers and an unexpected added attraction to close co-operation to bring about strict enforcement of traffic laws and ordinances insofar as they affect automobiles in this community, to the end that lives and property may be safeguarded, as a result of the conference with the special committee representing the Automobile Club of Western Wisconsin Thursday afternoon.

After barring a representative of the Tribune and Leader-Press from the meeting in the city hall, Mayor Bentley had an interesting conference with the Automobile club committee. He complained of the publicity which had been given the meeting of June 23, when W. F. Adams declared that the authorities were not enforcing the traffic regulations.

C. A. Dittman, member of the committee, called the mayor's attention to the fact that a group of citizens were calling upon the authorities to ascertain if the laws and ordinances were to be enforced.

After some further discussion Mayor Bentley promised co-operation in the enforcement of the regulations. Chief Webber, who was present, said his force of officers would do everything possible to enforce the automobile laws.

SENATE ADJOURNS

WASHINGTON.—The senate Friday adopted a motion providing for fourth of July adjournment until Tuesday. The house will adjourn Saturday.

London Reports Plan For Pact To Include U. S.

LONDON.—Reports that the imperial conference is considering a tripartite agreement between the United States, Great Britain and Japan relative to the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty are given prominence by the newspapers. By such an agreement, it is declared, a virtual triple entente for the Pacific will be established, and the operation of the Anglo-Japanese treaty would be confined to the Pacific.

Discussions between representatives of the three nations, as well as those of the British dominions, are foreshadowed.

COUNCIL GRANTS 154 LICENSE PERMITS AT THURSDAY SESSION

Application of A. D. Allsworth for Class "A" Beverage Permit Denied by Council

COMPLAINTS REGISTERED ON STREET IMPROVEMENT WORK

Work on Sixth Street and West Ave. Not Carpet Coal—Mayor

At the Thursday night session of the common council, fifty class "B" seventy-eight class "A" and twenty-six class "C" and pool licenses were granted to operators of these establishments in the city. All of the applications, with the exception of that of A. D. Allsworth, 1701 Onalaska avenue, were granted.

The application of Roth Brothers for a class "B" liquor license was withheld and voted on separately on objection offered to granting of the license by Alderman Killian. Alderman Killian's objection was based upon the fact that the place is frequented largely by high school students and alleged that gambling was permitted in that place of business. The application of A. D. Allsworth was rejected on the statement of the alderman from that ward that fighting and disorderly conduct was permitted in the place.

Complaints on Street Work

Complaints charging the board of public works with inefficient work regarding the resurfacing of streets were registered by Alderman Stenard and Reilly at the Thursday night session of the common council. That the city engineer had not complied with the orders of the council, was the charge made by Alderman Elbertson of the Fourth ward, and a motion was passed requesting that the mayor's special street improvement committee confer with the city engineer and board of public works regarding the matter of complying with the instructions of the council in resurfacing the streets.

Blow-by-blow Demonstration

of the Dempsey-Carpentier battle at Jersey City, staged by Joe and Ramon Birch, Milwaukee lightweights.

Baseball game between Nelson Clothing Company and the La Crosse nine—the first time the two local crack aggregations have met.

Three-mile heats of horse racing, Billy Dec, Silver Work, Halie Patcher and other well known horses being entered.

The Birch brothers, the scrappers from Milwaukee who are to simulate Jack and Georges for the imagination of local crowds, were due to arrive in La Crosse at noon. They are well known boxers in and around the state's fight center, and have fought in many bouts. The two train together, and have been watching the training camp reports from the east in order to assimilate as much as possible of the style of the respective champions.

The racing card was a last minute starter engineered by E. C. Aiken and W. N. Millard, well known La Crosse horsemen whose stables are in training at the fair grounds. In addition to their own nags they said they would secure entries from several other local horse fanciers, to insure a good field and lively competition.

Plans are all set for a big afternoon at the fair grounds, where the doings are to start at 2:30 o'clock city time. In addition, a considerable sum to swell the fund La Crosse will contribute to the "Lighthouse," as the association of blind folks calls its training school at Milwaukee, is expected to come from the Tag Day which normal school girls will stage on Saturday.

COTTON CROP SMALL

WASHINGTON.—Cotton production this year promises to be the smallest crop of the last quarter of a century. Friday's forecast by the department of agriculture placing it at $432,000,000, or nearly 5,000,000 bales smaller than last year's crop and nearly eight million bales below the record crop of 1914. This year's acreage is 28.4 per cent smaller than last year's.

JUST BEFORE THE BATTLE

NEW YORK.—The advance sale of seats for the Dempsey-Carpentier bout Saturday already has yielded gross receipts of approximately $1,250,000. Promoter Tex Rickard announced. This was based upon sales up to ten o'clock Friday morning.

With the sale of $5 seats on the day of the fight and a continuation of the present rate of reserve seat sales, total sales were expected to pass the million and a half mark.

NEW YORK.—Aviators were put on their honor not to fly over the arena at Jersey City during the Dempsey-Carpentier fray.

The Aero Club of America unofficially requested its members to take no chances, as Jersey traffic laws do not extend to the air.

At one time the officials contemplated posting a sky cop to shoot away ambitious fliers, but this was found impracticable.

WASHINGTON.—Attorney General Daugherty announced that he would not attend the Dempsey-Carpentier fight because he "had too much respect for the opinion of people who disapproved of prize fights and of whom I must be a sort of unofficial representative."

NEW YORK.—The crowd attending the Dempsey-Carpentier bout, the largest in the history of the sport, also will be the most orderly that has witnessed a heavyweight title bout, police officials of the metropolitan district promised Friday.

Elaborate preparations for the protection of spectators from pickpockets have been made by Jersey City police. Co-operation has been offered by the forces of other cities in the metropolitan area.

Most novel in the plan to prevent confusion will be the establishment of a "dead-line" extending approximately four blocks on all sides of the arena. Bluecoats stationed at intervals of a few yards on this boundary will bar admittance to all persons who do not possess tickets or other proper credentials.

The issue of bogus tickets in many sections of the country has added to the problems confronting promoter Tex Rickard and the police authorities.

Persons presenting such tickets will be held in the effort to chase down the counterfeiters.

Precautions taken against fire have virtually eliminated such danger. The gates of the arena have been closed to the celebrated "hot dog" friend of the hungry "fight fan." Newspapers must be left outside the "dead-line" due to the danger of ignition from cigar or cigarette. Sandwiches and cold drinks will be the recognized menu staples.

SENATOR FRANCE LEAVES RIGA FOR TRIP TO MOSCOW

Travels in Dingy, Second-class Car With Fifteen Other Passengers

WILL CONFER WITH SOVIET HEADS ON TRADE CONDITIONS

No Provisions Made for Senator's Comfort on Train

RIGA.—United States Senator Joseph I. France, who plans to confer with Russian soviet officials relative to trade conditions, left Riga for Moscow Thursday night. He rode in a dingy, second-class car with fifteen other passengers, which would take him through to the bolshevik capital, and was accompanied by a fuzzy-haired, bespectacled young man, who spoke with more or less accuracy twelve languages, and for whom the bolshevik legislation here asked for a double passport, as he was to enact the role of official courier and interpreter.

The luxurious sleeping car usually provided for bolshevik diplomats on the trip from Riga to Moscow and in which distinguished guests of the soviet government have been taken to the capital, failed to materialize for some unexplained reason.

Senator France and his companion had one small compartment entirely to themselves, but there was no bedding except a mattress. However the senator had provided his own sleeping-bag.

"I will be perfectly comfortable," the senator declared as his train pulled out. "I have traveled standing before this."

OFFICIAL PROGRAM

The official program of events of the athletic and aquatic festival to be held on the Fourth of July under the auspices of the La Crosse Outdoor Sports Association, indicating the time of each event will be on sale about the streets in the downtown section all day Saturday.

The program is arranged in a neat booklet form giving exact time and place for every event. You will want to purchase one of these in order not to lose out on your part of the program.

In order that participants in the Venetian Night parade may not be compelled to paddle their craft around into the lagoon, a two-wheeled cart will be furnished at the Venetian landing place directly across the river for the purpose of hauling the boats over to the lagoon. Just paddle up to the landing place and "ship by land" to the lagoon.

Lighting effects and illuminations arranged in Pettibone park are completed. The committee in charge of decorations for the Venetian Night parade have endeavored to make the scene one of the most beautiful ever attempted here on any occasion.

The entries for the Venetian Night parade have been postponed until Saturday evening at 6 o'clock. Make yours today and join hundreds of others planning to enter the event.

COMMITTEE IS NAMED TO TAKE FINAL ACTION

Men at Work Today at Reduced Wages While Union Leaders Meet to Consider Course to Pursue

95 PER CENT OF FIREMEN VOTE TO REJECT WAGE REDUCTION

Results of Vote in Other Unions Not Announced; Senate Probe Suspended

CHICAGO, Ill. — Final decision whether the railway employees of the country shall accept or reject the wage decrease which went into effect Friday will be referred to a committee of five representing the sixteen railroad unions.

Executives of the unions reached this decision Friday and instructed the committee to receive reports from the various group meetings now in Chicago and formulate general recommendations to the union membership.

The committee is composed of B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor; E. H. Fitzgerald, president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees; L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors; F. J. Manion, president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, and Timothy Shea, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Firemen Favor Rejection

Ninety-five per cent of the membership of the International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers have voted against accepting the wage cut ordered by the United States railroad labor board on all roads Friday. Timothy Shea, international president, made the announcement as 1,500 union leaders gathered here to pass on the order.

The maintenance of way men, the shop crafts, which have also taken a vote on the wage question, will not announce the result until after the conference here Friday.

One thousand general chairmen of the four big brotherhoods went into session with leaders talking of an "informal acceptance of the cut."

E. J. Manion, president of the Telegraphers, said his organization had taken no vote, and the question of acceptance or rejection of the board's order is up to the 150 general chairmen who are here.

Working on Reduced Pay

One million five-hundred thousand railway employees Friday went to work at reduced wages while 1,000 of their union leaders assembled here for conferences that are relied upon to keep transportation channels open and to decide what action railway employees will take regarding wage cuts.

While union leaders voiced general dissatisfaction of the rail workers toward the United States labor board's decision authorizing a wage cut, there were predictions that they will vote to abide by the order with some formal protest, these being based on the fact that the union leaders have the authority to do so and with their knowledge of industrial conditions, will not advocate swelling the ranks of the unemployed.

A decision on their part to order a walkout, would in any event, not be final as such an order would first be submitted to a referendum vote of many organizations that have not yet voted on the question.

Senate Suspends Inquiry

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Senate investigation of the railway situation was suspended Friday by Chairman Cummings of the interstate commerce committee until the middle or latter part of August. This was taken to mean that there would be no railway relief legislation at the present session of congress.

ASSESSMENT BOOKS ON SALE IN CITY

The tax assessment books, which have recently been printed are offered for sale at the various news stands in the city, according to announcement of the city clerk Friday. The books may also be purchased at the office of the city clerk. The books are sold for 15 cents.

EDUCATION COUNCIL OPENS SESSIONS AT IOWA CAPITAL TODAY

Meeting is Preliminary to Annual Conference of National Education Association

DES MOINES, Iowa.—The fifty-ninth annual convention of the National Education Association opened here Friday with the meeting of the National Council of Education which convenes a few days in advance of the general association.

The two meetings were presided over by the president of the council, Dr. Homer H. Searley, president of Iowa State Teachers' college, Cedar Falls, Iowa. The forenoon session was devoted to informal conferences, including a report of the committee on state administration of schools and a preliminary report of the committee on character and citizenship education.

At the afternoon session the National council will discuss the report of its committee on rural education which will be presented by the committee chairman, Dr. John P. Sims, president of the State Normal school at Stevens Point, Wis.

The demands which have been made upon the Des Moines housing committee and the advance registration indicate that the attendance this year will be one of the largest ever recorded, estimates varying from six to ten thousand.

KAUKAUNA MAN MADE HEAD OF WISCONSIN CHIEFS OF POLICE

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Richard H. McCarthy, chief of police of Kaukauna, was elected president of the Wisconsin Chief of Police association Thursday. Other officers included: O. K. Mann, Oconomowoc, vice president; Don McKay, former chief of police of Wausau, secretary.

Milwaukee was selected as the next place of convention.

MINNESOTA HARVEST ON
FARIPAULT, Minn.—The first harvest of the season in Minnesota has begun here. Rye is already being cut, and it will yield at least twenty bushels to an acre. Corn now is three weeks ahead in growth of any previous year.

BRINGING UP

TIPS ON COOKING FOR CAMPERS

The camper's comfort depends largely on what kind of bedding he takes with him.

The most serviceable bedding is a quilt of eiderdown or wool with an extra covering of denim. The quilt can be sewed or pinned with blanket pins along the bottom to form a sleeping bag. If blankets are chosen, it should be borne in mind that two light ones are warmer than a single heavy one.

A 7 by 7 foot, 10-ounce canvas when folded will make a ground cloth and an extra cover and is also useful as a pack cover.

In the pine forests, pine needles, raked up before building the fire and with the cones removed, will make a comfortable bed.

Camp Fires

Camp stores should be taken when ever they can be transported. They are safer than open fires, more convenient, require less fuel, and do not blacken the cooking utensils. Collapsible sheet-iron stoves may be obtained.

In the absence of a stove an open fire must be built. A safe and serviceable fireplace can be made of rocks placed in a small circle so as to support the utensils.

Where rocks are not obtainable, poles may be used.

For permanent camps it pays to build a stone fireplace. A piece of sheet iron will prevent the blackening of the pans and makes a better draft.

For temporary camps the fire should be built as follows:

Dig a hole about a foot deep and about 3 or 4 feet in diameter. Shovel away the side toward the wind. Lay green poles across the hole to support the pots and pans, and build the fire underneath.

Burn Refuse

Camp fires should never be larger than necessary, and the utmost care should be taken to prevent sparks from being carried into the neighboring forest. Clear away the litter for a considerable space about the fire. And be sure to put the fire out before you leave it.

During wet weather look for kindling in burned sugar-pine or yellow-pine butts or in pine knots. The under side of a leaning tree will usually contain dry material. Dead branches of manzanita, etc., that have not yet fallen are drier than those on the ground. Bark from fir snags is excellent fuel.

Where matches are scarce or when the weather is stormy, first light a candle and kindle your fire from that. Burn all kitchen refuse in the camp fire; it will not affect the cooking. Burn everything—coffee grounds, parings, bones, meat, even old tin cans—for if thrown out any where even buried, they may attract flies. Refuse once burned will not attract flies.

If burning is impracticable, dig a hole for the refuse, leaving the earth piled up on the edge and cover every addition with a layer of dirt.

Cheer up, Fido! If the prices keep on falling, a steer will be able to produce some dog meat again.

ENGINEER MACK IS AUTHORIZED TO BUY COAL FOR THE STATE

MADISON, Wis.—J. G. D. Mack, state engineer, becomes the coal dictator of Wisconsin institutions Friday when a law goes into effect giving him sole authority to enter into contract for the buying of coal.

He will purchase approximately $5,000 tons of fuel, thirty-five thousand tons of the amount going to the university and eight thousand to the state capital, with the remainder distributed between state institutions. At an average cost of $6.00 a ton, his expenditure will reach almost $300,000.

The legislature gave centralized power to Mr. Mack in order that he might be in a better position to enter into favorable contracts.

Taxation

SHOULD Governor Blaine communicate with the legislature concerning the failure of state income and expense to balance, or should he find it necessary to call a special session in order to secure such a balance, he may well consider the advisability of urging upon that body the wisdom of creating an interim committee to survey and study our present tax legislation, and all knowledge and experience available on the subject of taxation, and to submit to the legislature together with a full report of its proceedings such recommendations as it may arrive at touching what may be done to improve the existing situation.

Taxation is probably the least understood of all government problems. Our system is the outgrowth of conflicting ideas. New methods have been developed and patched onto the old structure. Class conflict over taxes is always going on. That the patchwork which has resulted from slow growth and change from year to year, in order to meet new exigencies of expenditure, might be largely improved were able to start out with the problem de novo, as though there were no tax agencies to begin with, goes without saying. Working largely free from the class and partisan influences which are always at the elbow of the legislature in session, such a committee might well arrive at something important to the state. And while we can ignore the fact that to a very great extent all taxes now collected are passed on to the consumer, the payers merely acting as unofficial collectors for the government, it must be admitted that some methods and some levies are worse than others, and that at least we may come to a simpler and more equitable basis.

A resolution for the appointment of such a committee was defeated in the last days of the present session. The resolution, or one with similar intent, should be adopted. We doubt that Governor Blaine could perform a more noteworthy service to the state than would result from a complete revision of taxation in Wisconsin.

The Neglected River Fan

ALL the signs are favorable for a most imposing and successful water carnival for July Fourth. They could hardly be otherwise, in a city in whose out-of-door summer life the big river plays such a predominant part. From May until October La Crosse's lighter vein of existence pulses about the river as a focus almost exclusively. We are an aquatic, almost an amphibious community in the summer time, a city of fishermen, swimmers and boaters. One can hardly imagine a summer sport event that would hit the majority of us more precisely where we live than a water carnival. Monday's doings, granted decent weather, will be a great success.

Incidentally, the factors which thus assure success for the water carnival, the canoe regatta and the Venetian Night contribute to one's bewilderment concerning a point of our municipal policy. One would think that in a community where every other man, at the lowest count, is a river-devotee there would be a special effort to furnish river accommodations for the public. One would naturally expect, for instance, that there would be floats and docks at least for motor boats, canoes and skiffs. One would naturally look for such things especially along the shore of Pettibone Park, the favored picnic place and playground for our people to which the natural avenue of approach is the Mississippi. The lighted landings constructed for the approaching water carnival merely emphasize the lack of such things. As far as they go—which was as far as the Outdoor Sports Association's funds could get—they are excellent, and probably they will serve well enough their essentially scenic and spectacular purpose in connection with the regatta. But they are landings only by courtesy, insofar as they meet the needs of the river and the river-using public in La Crosse. They offer no protection or convenience to boaters confronted with the problems of the jagged rip-rap of Pettibone Park. What La Crosse needs, and has needed for a long time, is a good long landing boom running down the front of Pettibone Park, easily and comfortably to be approached from the shore and affording facilities for tying up small craft. It should not be a precarious raft, but a stable and sizeable floating wharf—a block long, one would say, to provide plenty of room for most occasions. We shall see the need of it on the Fourth, when boats and canoes will be stumbling over each other, staving in their stems on the rocks and possibly tipping their occupants into the river in the course of the numerous landings on the "stern and rock-bound coast" of Pettibone.

River fans of La Crosse are justified in rising on their hind-legs and making a noise for their rights of this sort. They pay healthy taxes on their power-rafts, canoes and skiffs, and can legitimately demand that some of the money be spent for their benefit. In a city in whose existence the river plays such a part it is, indeed, a mystery that they have not done so long since. One suspects that this coming event, which will do so much to focus public attention on the possibilities of the river and the lagoon as a playground, will open a good many eyes to the requirements of the situation.

A Popular Selection

THAT President Harding has placed William H. Taft on the supreme bench will be a matter of satisfaction to the majority moderately inclined people of the country, including, one suspects, a considerable group of non-professional progressives. The professional progressives in the senate, or the more extreme few of them, found it politically expedient to oppose his confirmation, but one suspects that this was rather for the sake of consistency than through any genuine suspicion or hostility to Mr. Taft. For whatever we may have thought of Mr. Taft in 1912, as a politician "surrounded by men who knew exactly what they wanted" and the official scapegoat for a multitude of party sins, has been considerably changed by Mr. Taft's broad and constructive contribution to national progress since he became nominally a private citizen. We doubt if any volunteer in the government service during the war can show a more satisfying record than Mr. Taft, or one that represents more unselfish and unrewarded service to his country. If his services as a representative of the public on the war labor board did not mark a metamorphosis in Mr. Taft, they of a certainty presented a new and favorable aspect of his character to public attention, and brought from quarters not previously sympathetic the heartiest approval and respect. It was learned that Mr. Taft, traditionally of the "judicial temperament", was withal kindly and liberal; it was discovered that his outlook upon economic problems was sighted over human values as well as property. The nation awoke to the realization that Mr. Taft had the very high quality of courage necessary to speak out against abuses by either capital or labor, and stoutly to defend the interest of the great silent majority that has so often been mere grist between the stones. So one believes that the elevation of Mr. Taft to the highest judicial position in the nation will be exceedingly well received. Of all the names mentioned as possible candidates for the position it may be doubted if there was another President Harding could have selected that would have been more generally endorsed in more widely separated areas of public opinion.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

The nearby town of West Salem, regarded as a suburb of La Crosse, is being swept by a disastrous fire today. A call for help was sent to Bangor but that department could not control the fire so La Crosse was called on. The local department with steamer and hose wagon arrived at 3:35, just one hour after the call was received. The fire started in the Bolles Lumber yards but its origin is unknown. The La Crosse company is in time to save many thousands dollars' worth of residence property if the water holds out but if that fails the entire town will be in ashes.

Mrs. Hiram Goddard and son, Roland, returned today from the west. Mrs. Goddard has been absent five months. Mr. Roland Goddard will return to the west early next week.

THE TOSS OF A COIN

By FREDERICK HART

In the privacy of her little room Margaret Sears was giving way un-restrainedly to grief.

The cause of her tears lay on the bed beside her, a tumbled mass of silks and satins. It was a pierrette costume, dainty, alluring, crisp and fresh from the hands of the dress-maker; heribonned and bejeweled, with pompons on the slippers and a tall pointed hat, also decorated with pompons—a costume which any girl might be proud to wear at the last and best fancy-dress party of the most exclusive club. Dress, stockings and hat alike were of a delicate shade of pink.

"Pink!" moaned Margaret to her pillow. "Pink! And I told him distinctly that it must be blue, and now it's too late, and Billy will go away and never see me any more!"

The explanation of this somewhat enigmatic remark was contained in a note, crumpled from much reading, which lay on the dainty dressing table at Margaret's side. It contained only a few words:

"Peggy, I realize that I've made a fool of myself and I ask your forgiveness. I am called away to Canada tonight to be gone for two months; no telling where a letter will find me. I won't have time to see you before I go, but I will get tomorrow morning's paper on the train and read about your costume. If you wear blue I'll know that I'm forgiven. Ever
"BILLY."

That note had arrived the day before. Billy was far on his way now, and she had no address of his; she had at once ordered a blue pierrette costume at the last minute; it had arrived too late to change, and it was pink. There was no evading the dance—it was a social duty to go, and she had to go in costume, and she had searched the house in vain for blue ribbons, blue tulle, blue anything. There was nothing of the color prior to her last—and now it was too late!

She heard a ring at the door. A moment later her maid announced the youth who was to be her escort.

"Tell him to wait," she said dully.

"I'll be down in a minute." She put on the pink pierrette dress with hands that trembled at the hoops. There was nothing to do but go. Billy would see the next morning that she had worn pink, and would think that he was ungrateful, and he would not be back for months! Her eyes brimmed with tears. Fate had indeed treated her badly.

At the club that evening it was noticed that Peggy Sears was not her usual buoyant self. She did not seem to enter into the spirit of the occasion, and there was some gossip—a bit of tongue wagging—to the effect that if Billy Farnsworth had not been called away so suddenly, Peggy's smiles might have been more visible. But Peggy seemed as immune to gossip as she was to the gaiety of the party. Even when some "dear-est" tried to whisper a few pointed remarks into her ear she was unimpressed. She had yielded to fate. To make matters worse, there was Helen Travis, clad as usual as Peggy was—in a bewitching shade of blue! If it had been any one else but Helen Travis, Peggy would have asked her to exchange; but it was over Helen that she had quarreled with Billy!

The society reporter put the last touches to his copy and handed it to the night editor. "I'm going home," he remarked. Then he added: "Funny thing about that party. There were two girls three dressed exactly alike except one was pink and the other blue. I couldn't tell 'em apart, except one was peppy and the other seemed to have something on her mind. I noted their names, but I flipped a penny to see which name I'd put for blue and which for pink."

"Oh, well, it doesn't matter," said the night editor. And the copy went through.

At 11 o'clock the next morning Peggy Sears opened her eyes on a dull world. It was raining outside—fit accompaniment for her feelings. A rap at the door—the maid with her breakfast. "Come!" said Peggy listlessly.

The maid entered. On the tray beside the shining coffee service was a yellow envelope.

"It came just this minute, Miss Peggy," said the maid. Her heart beating with a wild hope, Peggy tore the telegram open. This is what she read: "Pierrette in pink and blue. Will write soon. BILLY."

"Billy!" shrieked Peggy to the startled maid, "get me the morning paper—quick!"

Under the headlines of the account of the fancy-dress ball she read: "Miss Margaret Sears and Miss Helen Travis elected to appear as Pierrettes—Miss Travis in a dainty confection of pink and Miss Sears bewitching in blue."

The rest of the account was written in the society reporter's best style; but he would not have been flattered had he seen how this carefully elaborated description was elicited and his fair reader's attention focused on the two lines reproduced above, which she read over and over as though to brand the words on her memory and to assure herself that there was no mistake. And when she had so assured herself she hugged the paper to her bosom and gave way to tears of joy while her breakfast grew cold and her maid wondered whether or not her mistress had suddenly lost her mind.

"Here's a funny one," said the night editor to the society reporter the next evening. "We just got a letter from one of the girls who was at that fancy-dress party the other night, who seems crazy about the way you wrote it up."

"Nothing funny in that," replied the society reporter modestly. "I can write a pretty good story. I guess, when I

ELIZABETH SOLVES THE DRINKING CUP QUESTION FOR CLUB

"We've got everything arranged row, with the exception of the drinking cups," said Catherine Jenks, president of the Butterfly Club. The club had planned to spend the Fourth of July in the big, cool woods several miles out of the city, and had met at Mary Elizabeth's home to make the final plans. "Should each of us bring her own cup, or what should we do? Our baskets have enough in them as it is."

"I know!" popped up Mary Elizabeth. She had been sitting quietly with her finger to her cheek and the other members knew this to be a sign of deep thought. "Let's take some pieces of paper—old paper if we can get it—fold and make drinking cups from it—fold it, you know?"

"But, how do you fold the paper for a cup?" asked one of the club members. "I used to know, but I've forgotten."

"This way," replied Mary Elizabeth, taking up a square piece of paper.

Five folds were made and these are shown in the drawing that illustrates this article. Clip the drawing out and paste it in your scrap book. You, too, may forget how the folds are made and the reference will be useful.

NOT POOR

BY DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON

YOU will look in vain for my rating in Dun or Bradstreet. In my own town, whatever celebrity I have attained is not based on my financial status. Yet I should like to tell you that I am a man of some financial consequence.

There is a bank which courteously furnishes me with a book of partly printed forms, which my signature can transform into something as good as money.

If I were to fill out one of these check-blanks with your name and the amount of $10, you could take that check to any man in my town who has anything to sell, and he would give you $10 worth of dry goods or groceries or hardware, and take the check as readily as if it were money.

You could take it to the city hall and pay your taxes with it.

You could endorse it to the collector of Internal Revenue, and he would credit it on your income tax. And every one of these men would be glad to get it.

You could take it to the bank and get gold for it.

If I were to make out a check for $50,000, not a man in this town would give you 25 cents for it, for they would all think it a forgery, or else that I had gone crazy.

But my check for $10 is just as good as that of John D. Rockefeller. On occasion I can issue a somewhat larger check.

I am more proud of my commercial rating than most people suspect. It gives me a great deal of satisfaction to think that there is not a man on earth who has any of my paper overdue and unpaid.

That being true, and I having health and ability to earn enough to meet my bills, and habits of economy which keep my expenses within my income, I deny with some emphasis the accusation of being a poor man.

I do not know of any one who is really richer than I.

I have got the color of the costumes to the allies. That is funny. I was afraid she might be sore."

Lying all curled up, or with your head on your arm, or in any other unusual manner, may cause the circulation of the blood to become poor. This will trouble your brain and as a result you will dream and have a night of unrest. Generally a bad headache in the morning will tell you you haven't slept properly.

BIG BALL

The "Hit and Run" Written especially for Girls' News

January

Of the New The "hit and run" is the worst enemies of the man and the short stop. Let's suppose there is a first base. The batter signs for it. The pitcher winds up. The ball is pitched. The batter will try to hit the ball. Now the second baseman and the shortstop generally agree between themselves as to which one will cover second base.

The ball is pitched. The batter will try to hit the ball. Now the second baseman and the shortstop generally agree between themselves as to which one will cover second base.

Each Has His Territory If the second baseman is covering second, thus leaving the territory between second and first wide open, the batter will try to hit the ball between second and first. But if the shortstop is covering second, leaving the space between second and third open, the batter will try to place his hit there. This "hit and run" play being a game work more or less, the second baseman and the shortstop may become what undecided just what to do, and if the second baseman is covering second and a "hit and run" comes up, he should not, as a general rule, until the batter hits the ball before he starts for his base.

Chance Either Way

The batter may miss. The catcher will then have an opportunity to throw to second to catch the base-runner. If there is no one there to receive the ball—well, another play spoiled.

On the other hand, if the second baseman does start for the bag as soon as the ball is pitched, and the batter does hit it between first and second, who's going to get the ball? It is a question hard to answer, and if a thing of this kind does happen, the second baseman can do nothing but give the batter due credit for having been the better guesser.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS COSTING TOO MUCH REPORTS COMMITTEE

Necessity of Using Two Languages and High Cost of Living in Geneva are Blamed

GENEVA, Switzerland.—Obligatory use of two languages, French and English, in all its transactions, and the high cost of living at the headquarters in Geneva are given by the special committee investigating the workings of the League of Nations as an explanation of what has been considered in some quarters as the excessive cost of the organization. The expense for last year, as already reported was about $4,150,000.

"There can be no doubt," says the committee's report, "that, rightly or wrongly, the League of Nations has the reputation of costing too much. The report then goes on to explain how the complexity, diversity and novelty of the work undertaken costs heavily, particularly since it is in the hands of a comparatively young institution that lacks experience."

The dual language of the league requiring translation and duplicate publication of all documents alone accounts for one-third of the entire expense, the report says, then points out that the location of the headquarters of the league in Geneva accounts for a good deal of the excessive outlay. "Since the main purpose of the commission of inquiry is to suggest every form of economy," the report says, "it feels bound to point out that, at the moment, Geneva is—and so far as it is possible to foresee will remain—a city in which the cost of living is comparatively higher than in almost any city in Europe, and where the rate of exchange is, at the moment of writing, the most disadvantageous for the great majority of states members of the league."

The report suggests that were the league headquarters located at Brussels, Fontainebleau, Turin or Vienna, or almost anywhere else, an immediate economy would be effected that would be appreciated by all members of the league and particularly by those whose exchange is depreciated.

DAKOTA STATE CEMENT PLANT DECLARED LEGAL

PIERRE, S. D.—The legality of South Dakota's state owned cement plant was upheld Thursday when the supreme court denied a writ of prohibition sought by Edwin K. Egan to prevent sale of bonds by the cement commission.

The court held that the cement and its product commodities were necessary to the people of the state, and that the manufacture, distribution and sale of it by the state would tend to promote public welfare and secure equality of economic opportunity.

ONS U. S. REJECTION
RLD LEAGUE IS FINAL

Believe U. S. Can be

By The Associated Press.

Nicholas Murray Butler, pres-Columbia university, has an-
to all inquiries during his ere, that he has not come to
as "President Harding's Col-del House" and that any suggestion that effect was preposterous and delicious.

Dr. Butler has taken every opportunity at various functions where he has met many influential figures in British circles of assuring them that America's "fair-thing" rejection of the League of Nations, as first enunciated here by Ambassador Harvey, is his speech before the Pilgrims' society, is final and absolute.

In an informal talk Dr. Butler said:
"Ambassador Harvey told the Pilgrims
and the world of America's definite decision. But despite his assurances that it was absurd to believe the United States might yet be beguiled into the League, I have found many in England still cherishing the idea that this is not really the case. These people cite as justification of their views
letters they have received from friends of the League in the United States telling them the reported rejection of the League is nothing but political by-play and that in the end the United States will certainly join."

"I am of the opinion expressed by some prominent British spokesmen that any misunderstanding on this point is mischievous and constitutes a real danger. I have, therefore, concluded that the best thing to do is to tell such folks simply and bluntly that Harvey spoke the real truth and I'm doing it."

Mr. Taft's nomination was expected,
but the inclination of President

Harding explained, however, that he had made the nomination at this time
at the instance of Attorney General

him that business in the federal courts was greatly congested, mainly on account of indictments for alleged violations of the Volstead law, and as the chief justice of the United States was an essential part of the machinery of federal judicial organization, it was desirable to fill the vacancy in that office without delay, in order that the new chief justice might devote himself to the judicial reorganization now in progress.

Doesn't Like "Leak"

When the correspondents assembled in President Harding's office at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon the president, standing behind his desk
with the newspaper representatives gathered around, made a reference to reports in circulation on Wednesday that Mr. Taft was to be nominated for chief justice of the United States. The president plainly showed that he did not like this "leak" as he termed it,
and indicated that it might have taken the form of a surprise he had in store for them. He then made known Mr. Taft's ship and that the
that moment on its

LOCAL RAIN COOLS CITY FOR A TIME; 86 DEGREES, 2 P. M.

The hot wave was broken for a few minutes at noon today by a local thunder shower. In 10 minutes a fifth of an inch of rain fell. The temperature was 77 at 7 a. m., 82 at 9 o'clock, 73 at 11 o'clock when the rain started but.

At 2 p. m. this afternoon the mercury stood at 86 and Old Sol
was on the job with a vengeance
again.

The weather bureau reports the rain as "very local" and it probably did not cover much of the country outside of the city of La Crosse.

Yesterday it was 108 at Bismarck, N. D., and 100 at Moorhead, Minn., the two hottest spots in the northwest yesterday.
And the hot wave will continue to wave.

TRADES COUNCIL TO NAME SUCCESSOR TO KNUTSON TONIGHT

F. O. Wells, Acting Organizer,
Probably Will be Given
Permanent Office

The Trades and Labor Council at its meeting tonight will name an organization to succeed R. G. Knutson, who is now a member of the state industrial commission, taking up his new duties in Madison today. F. O. Wells, who has been acting organizer since Mr.
Knutson began his vacation a month ago, probably will be given the office permanently, say members of the council. For years Mr. Wells has been active in union labor affairs in La Crosse and has occupied executive positions in the unions.

BIGGEST STILL IN COUNTRY IS FOUND IN CHICAGO HOUSE

CHICAGO, Ill.—A giant still, worth $25,000 and so large it may necessarily dynamite the house in which it is located to destroy it, was discovered here Thursday night by the police and was confiscated by the federal authorities. The still, believed to be the largest in the country, had rats
in the basement of the house, that measured 14 by 18 feet and are six feet deep while the coils ran through the entire house.

Wines, alcohol, mash, and "moonshine" said to be worth $75,000, were found in the house and destroyed.
The still was discovered when a passerby saw smoke coming from one of the great rats which was overheated and turned in a fine alarm.
No one was at the house and no
arrests have been made.

JURY DISAGREES IN CASE OF WOMAN WHO VIOLATED DRESS LAW

ZION CITY, Ill.—Six men of Zion, followers of Wilbur Glen Voliva, inspected the evidence Friday in the first case brought in violation of Zion's new modest dress law, and failed to agree.

Mrs. Sarah Johnson, aged 21, of Winthrop Harbor, Ill., appeared in court wearing the low-neck, short sleeved and transparent blouse which led to her arrest two weeks ago for fracturing the dress law in three places, but after a careful appraisal of the evidence two of the jurors held out for acquittal.

Judge W. E. Schmiffuss granted the motion of the prosecutor for a new trial.

He Knew the Signs
A teacher in a slum school was calling over the names of his scholars
in order to ascertain which of them were likely to leave shortly.

"Please, sir," said one archin, "I think I shall leave soon."

"Why, Tommy?" asked the teach-

"Well, sir," he said, "I think we're going to leave our 'ouse, 'cause moth-

LAST SERVICES FOR BISHOP KOUDELKA HELD AT CLEVELAND

Superior Prelate Buried from Church He Had Served for Over 25 Years

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—Funeral
services for Bishop Joseph M. Kou-delka of the Catholic diocese of Superior, Wis., were held Friday in St.
Michael's church here, where he had been pastor for more than twenty-five years. He was buried alongside his parents in a little cemetery nearby.

A nephew and namesake Rev. Joseph Koudelka, pastor of a Cleveland Catholic parish, was celebrant of the solemn requiem mass. The absolu-tion was given by Rev. Joseph F.
Mueller of Superior, who with a number of priests and laymen, accompanied the pastor here Wednesday evening.

Several hundred priests attended the funeral which was one of the most impressive religious ceremonies ever held here. A committee from Chicago represented the National Association of Bohemian Catholics.
Bishop Koudelka died in Superior
last Friday. He planned and supervised the construction of the church
in which his funeral was held.

LIGHTNING STARTS FOREST FIRES IN NORTH MINNESOTA

DULUTH, Minn.—Two forest fires
in the Superior National forest have burned over between 600 and 800
acres of white and jack pine timber and are still raging, according to a long distance telephone message received Friday by the Associated Press
from Calvin A. Dahlgren, Superior National supervisor, at his headquarters at Ely.

Two crews of fifty men each are fighting the flames. The fires are in the vicinity of Sioux Falls, and Mandan lake. No rain has fallen in this territory for several weeks, and the woods are unusually dry for this time of the year, said Mr. Dahlgren.
Rangers reported to the supervisor
that the fires were started late Wednesday night by lightning.

JOB PRINTERS IN MILWAUKEE OUT FOR A 44-HOUR WEEK

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Between 150
and 175 job shop printers were on strike Friday in 35 shops in Milwaukee in an effort to bring about a 44-hour week.

The shops were picketed from six
until nine a. m., when the strikers
gathered at a hall to sign the strike
benefit roll.

The printers are prepared to remain out indefinitely, according to Raymond T. Moore, president of Milwaukee Typographical union No. 23.
Approximately 100 job printers were
at work in shops that had signed contracts conceding the 44-hour week.
Members of the International Pressmen's union were also on strike in the shops affected.

Obituary

E. H. KINDER
Erick H. Kinder passed away at Wabasha, Minn., hospital June 29, at 10:15 p. m. He was born at Grotzno, West Prussia, Germany. He came to La Crosse when 17 years old. He was a stone cutter and then a hattermaker
for the Burlington. He was married to Olga Freise November 22nd, 1890.
He moved to Wahpeton, N. D., and then to Aberdeen. The family moved to Wabasha about two years ago. Surviving are his widow, Olga, and four sons, Erick, William and Oscar of Aberdeen, S. D., and Edward of Col-lingswood, New Jersey, and two grandsons, a mother, a brother, Edward,
and a sister, Henrietta, in Germany, an uncle and a number of cousins in this city.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. Kinder's sister, Mrs. E.
C. Williams, 702 South Fifth street.
Rev. J. T. Gamm of the German Lutheran church will officiate and interment will be in Oak Grove cemetery.
Mr. Kinder was a member of the E.
U. for 25 years. Services will be held city time.

Indications are you might as well
try to sell ice next winter as coal this summer.

FIVE DECADES OF ADVERTISING

Indians Shows
Fakers
Reactionaries
World War
Fifty Years Ago

AN EDITORIAL
TO ADVERTISERS

In 1871. Fifty years ago there was no advertising at all worthy of the name. There was only a little unimportant, uninteresting notice here and there, but nothing more than that appeared in any newspaper or journal
fifty years previous to 1871.

In 1881. Enter the Indian Medicine show, the patent medicine baseball, etc. The national magazines also begin to grow and offer entertaining fiction and do much to educate the public in art. Advertisements of some selling value and interest begin to appear and the magazines print funny
pictures in the back to get the reader
to read advertising.

In 1891. Enter the half-tone illustration into wide use and with it advertising's ablest aid—adequate illustrations of selling value. About this time the advertising agency begins to be a factor, and advertising grows and progresses. But the advertising solicitor is still barred from office buildings. Fakers still abound.

In 1901. Here we begin to note the first great upward growth of advertising as an economical and practical arm of business. There still remains in New York city a man who continues to vow that he will never buy an advertised article. But the advance is not to be stayed by reactionaries. Advertising, along with the automobile,
is not to be held up, and the great American boom is on, full swing. A fine crowd of men have come into the business and fakers have been crowded out.

In 1911. It is difficult to indicate by facts or diagrams the remarkable growth of advertising in this decade ending in 1911. Great magazines grow as if by magic. Newspapers, feeling the competition, grow and expanded, greatly improving their facilities to advertisers. Rates, instead of being many and various, become standardized. More Sunday newspapers, seeing the success achieved by one of the leaders, added features; daily papers developed to a greater degree
the lure of cartoons. Both newspapers and magazines flourished equally in advertising, and agencies and clients likewise. A few more years of high speed, a little slackening up, and then—

From 1914 to 1915 we learned,
however, in the world war, that advertising was one of the biggest and most useful servants our government had.

In 1921. The war is over and reconstruction is now well advanced.
It has proved almost as much of a bar-

PAGEANT BUILDERS DISCOVER THAT LA CROSSE WAS ONCE HEAD CAMP OF GYPSIES IN THE MIDDLE WEST

HOW many people know that La Crosse was once the headquarters of the gypsies in the middle west?
In digging out the history of this district for the pageant in July the fact
was brought to light that at one time between five and six hundred gypsies were encamped between Onalaska and La Crosse and along the Mormon Coulee road.

The gypsies, with their "life on the open road," their swarthy countenances, their queer, vari-colored costumes with tinkling ornaments and tambourines their mysterious fortune-
telling art, and their bizarre caravans of gaily-painted wagons have always had the romantic appeal of things different from the ordinary, humdrum course of daily existence. To those who think that La Crosse is a prosaic
place to live, in its history, as presented in the pageant, will be a startling

revelation of the romance to be found in daily life which is often overlooked
because it is so near at hand.

The connection of La Crosse and the gypsies is just one instance of the many incidents which will be woven together to make a thrilling
drama like the greatest of moving picture spectacles, with the added advantage of the living presence of the actors and the glow and brilliance of color. Also, the story, being the history of this region, will be of close personal interest to every inhabitant.
Many will see their own grandfathers
and great grandfathers come to life
again before their eyes.

On July 18-20, at the fair grounds,
will be shown the one dramatic performance which has a human appeal
to every man, woman, and child living in La Crosse and the surrounding country.

As the war itself, but the elasticity
and adaptability of the American people are always to be depended upon.
Our great resources, our improved
banking laws and national optimism
are some of the many certainties
which are prophetic of greater prosperity.

Both the war and this period of readjustment have shown us the great power of advertising. The concerns which have played fairly and advertised freely are as sound as a rock and prosperous. The commercial agencies report that 94 per cent of failures are non-advertisers. They will continue because "Success has a way of waiting with all men, all concerns, who serve well."

Advertising today, if used righteously and in the spirit of service, is the mightiest modern force which business has at its command. After five decades of development it is a high and splendid profession, giving employment to many and justifying every good thing that its friends claimed for it while it was coming into its own.
Advertising can be made more and more a great weapon to combat the forces of ignorant or malicious opposition which develop within our wonderful country, against its institutions, which have grown strong and vital in an atmosphere of true liberty
and equal opportunity for all.

And because advertising is a great force, we should read advertising, for it makes us live with all the vital forces which are today working for good. It is as important to our education as the daily news columns.

The reader who omits the advertising is going backwards. He is missing wonderful opportunities for enriching his life, increasing his happiness and contributing to his comfort.

Read advertising. It is full of pleasure and profit to him who faithfully follows it.

RESIDENTS ASKED TO CO-OPERATE WITH HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Garbage Collectors Reluctant to Cover Sand Street Areas
Says Health Officer

In answer to complaints regarding garbage collection in the extreme eastern section of the city, A. M. Murphy, city health officer, stated Thursday that instruction has been given drivers of garbage wagons to collect
at all residences from which complaints have been entered.

Mr. Murphy stated that drivers are reluctant to cover areas where the streets are not improved and where it is difficult to pull the wagons
through. With but two garbage collectors on the south side, Mr. Murphy stated that every hour lost by the men means that their territory for that day will not be covered. The men are kept busy from early in the morning until late at night, he said.

That many residents in the eastern section of the city use their garbage
for chicken feed or fertilizer, was the statement of the health officer. There are but a few residences in the outlying section where garbage is collected, according to his statement.
Mr. Murphy declared he had made arrangements with a truck farmer to collect from the outlying residences
which insist on garbage collection.

In order that better service may be enjoyed, residents of the city are requested to co-operate with the department in the placing of garbage
cans in a convenient position, accessible to the collectors. Mr. Murphy asked that one of the collectors
be permitted to work on the Fourth of July in order that he might keep up with the work.

PAPER COMPANY OFFERS TO TAKE BACK STRIKERS

NEW YORK.—The International Paper company Friday notified its striking employees that it would reopen its plants July 5, and extend to them "the privilege of coming back to work on the basis of our proposition of May 26 which means that our employees will receive approximately 95
per cent more wages than they did in 1914."

"If a sufficient number of our former employees accept this proposition to operate the plants, we will start them up to as near full capacity as our business will permit," continued
the company's statement. "If you do not accept this proposition on Tuesday, July 5, the company will arrange to start such of its plants as it desires to have in operation to take care of the requirements of its customers."

SCOPE OF SOLDIER EDUCATION BONUS GREATLY EXTENDED

Schooling at State Expense Available for Those Who

Received Cash Bonus

MADISON, Wis.—The present legislature has made four important amendments to the educational law. By an amendment introduced by Senator Lange of Eau Claire the privileges of the educational bonus law may be extended to students who have received the cash bonus without first returning the cash bonus. Under this law students are assigned to the educational institutions immediately and their educational bonus is withheld until the amount equals the amount they received for the cash bonus.

An amendment introduced by Senators Czerwinski and Ridgway provided for the payment of bonus to students who attended educational institutions subsequent to their discharge from military service and prior to a formal application by the state board of education. The purpose of this amendment was to allow the educational bonus to students who entered school prior to a knowledge of the educational bonus law.

Another amendment extends the privileges of the educational law to students who entered the military service between the dates November 1 and November 12, 1918. This applies to a number of students whose cases had been held in abeyance for a long time and who were suddenly called between those dates prior to the signing of the armistice.

Still another amendment authorizes the state board of education to assign disabled soldiers to private business colleges in co-operation with the federal board of vocational education. These amendments will cost thousands of dollars in excess of the present cost.

BLAINE TURNS DOWN MEASURE AFFECTING OFFICIAL PRINTING

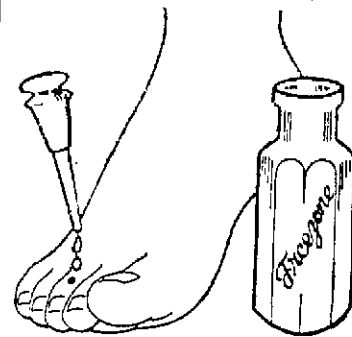

MADISON, Wis.—Governor Blaine today vetoed the Nye bill placing the official city paper of cities of the second and third class on the basis of circulation. In considering the cost of printing, he says in his message that the measure would only serve to increase the cost of city government. The bill would require that cities pay for their printing on the basis of circulation, "having no other effect than to increase enormously the cost of city printing in cities of the second and third class," the governor says. "The present law has served a very good purpose, it meets every public demand, and I submit that this is no time to impose these additional burdens upon the public. To prevent such increased expense to the public is sufficient justification for my disapproval."

If automobile prices keep on dropping, it will soon be cheaper to buy one than to steal one.

NEW TARIFF RATES HIGHEST SINCE THE CIVIL WAR, CLAIM

Each Person in the Country Will be Taxed $20 Annually by Bill Declares Democrat

WASHINGTON.—Rates in the new tariff bill, considered in the light of the American valuation provision, are higher than any written into any law of the kind passed by congress since the Civil war, representative Garner, Texas, ranking democrat on the ways and means committee, declared Thursday in the first expression on the measure from the minority side of the house.

The statement of framers of the bill that it would bring in an annual revenue of $700,000,000 means, he said, that during the life of the measure, every man, woman and child in the United States, "will be compelled to contribute $20 each per annum to its beneficiaries."

ENFORCEMENT OF NEW DRY BILL PUT OVER 30 DAYS ANNOUNCES COMMISSIONER

MADISON, Wis.—People of the state are given thirty days in which to acquaint themselves with the provisions of the new prohibition enforcement act, and to carry on its provisions, W. Stanley Smith, prohibition commissioner announced Friday. After that time the law will be enforced in its every particular, he says.

"It will be physically impossible for the necessary changes in the buildings used as licensed places to be made July 1, which is the opening of the license year," the commissioner declares. "I would suggest that a reasonable time for making these changes would be thirty days under all the circumstances."

Saloons and soft drink parlors selling non-intoxicating liquors of some alcoholic content will be hardest hit.

since they must remove all standing bars, counters, and all obstructions to a clear view from the street before that time.

Doctors and nurses must secure permits and pay license fees before the expiration of that time, if they are to write prescriptions for liquor or fill such prescriptions.

SCIENTIST DEAD

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Dr. Harry Harrington Cox, noted electrical scientist, died Thursday at his home here. Known internationally as the "father of the dry cell," Dr. Cox contributed many noted electrical inventions to science.

STATE GOVERNMENT NOT TO BLAME FOR TAXES SAYS BOARD

Direct Cost of Operation is But Little Over Two Hundred Thousand Says Statement

MADISON, Wis.—Responsibility for high taxes does not rest on the state government, the tax commission points out in an official bulletin made public Friday. Figures are presented to show that the direct cost of governmental operation to the people is but $229,463 annually.

Issue is taken with public officials and employees who have declared that the state was lavishing money at the expense of the taxpayers. "This course may be natural on the part of local officials, but it can hardly be called frank or courageous," the statement says.

The aggregate taxes collected from the people of the state for all purposes for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, was $76,509,205, of which the state received only $7,756,887, according to the tax commission.

Over 97 per cent of this $7,756,887 was then returned by the state to the counties in the form of school and highway aid, and for the support of charitable and penal institutions, leaving but $229,463 for operation of the state government.

"Of course it costs more than that to support the state government," the statement says, "but additional revenue was derived from taxes on railroads, express, telegraph and other public service companies."

PASSENGER TRAIN HELD UP BY TWO MEN IN INDIANA

DANVILLE, Ill.—Big four passenger train No. 44 was held up by two men early Friday morning near Covington, Indiana, near here, the messenger shot and the safe thrown from the train.

The train was east-bound from Covington. The men boarded the express car at Covington. At Veederburg, twelve miles east, Frank Beckman, the express messenger, was found shot through the hip and leg, with packages of express matter piled upon him. A steel safe in the express car was robbed of a quantity of non-negotiable securities.

The robbers jumped off when the train slowed up at Veederburg. A posse is scouring the country side for the men.

AMERICAN TOURISTS VISITING IN FRANCE CHARGE EXTORTION

High Prices Due to Indiscriminate Spending of Visitors
Claims Government

PARIS.—The effect of the high cost of living in Paris upon tourist trade, as indicated by the growing frequency of complaints of extortion by Americans visiting France, is occupying the attention of the government. The authorities hold that the tourists have the cure largely in their own hands; exaggerated prices being due in large part to indiscriminate spending by visitors, aided by the spendthrift tendency of French profiteers.

It is admitted that abuses practiced in amusement resorts, where meals, wine and dancing are provided, have their effect upon prices in general but how to correct that evil without discouraging the most profitable trade is a question.

Under Secretary of State Pilsant, discussing the question with Americans, proposes publicity as a remedy. He has invited American visitors to join in a protest which will be published in the Paris press, and he also will take up personally individual cases of extortion brought to his attention.

The most frequent causes of complaint are charges for lodgings in hotels and apartments. Mr. Pilsant told the Americans he had decided to ask hotels to publish their rates in the papers. This remedy would not, however, affect apartments, which are the subject of profiteering on a scale hitherto unknown.

There are very few unfurnished apartments to let, according to the real estate agencies; as fast as vacated by tenants they are transformed into furnished apartments and either let at rentals of from $300 to 1,000 per cent higher than the average before the war for furnished apartments of the same class, or rented at an increase of 200 to 300 per cent above the average for unfurnished apartments, with the proviso that the tenant buy the furniture at excessive figures.

Rare complements are often well done.

"MOVIE GIRLS" ARE QUITTING STUDIOS FOR CIRCUS LIFE

Scores of Pretty Girls Dance in Big Spectacle Produced
by Al. G. Barnes

The lure of the circus has reached several of the California motion picture studios, and in the east of "Alice in Wonderland," which is featured with Al. G. Barnes' circus which shows in La Crosse Monday, July 11, will be seen a group of young women whose faces are familiar to screen followers. Miss Mildred Kerr was the first of the studio folk to seek employment with the Barnes circus, and she found the work of rehearsals so congenial that her enthusiasm spread among her friends and as a result the "fairy number" in the spectacle is made up exclusively of young women who have been earning their livelihood in the pictures.

No difficulty would have been experienced in obtaining the contracts of twice as many more young women, as the winter quarters were besieged with applicants just before the show started on tour, but as there were not accommodations for any more, the late comers were disappointed.

TAFT APPOINTMENT TO SUPREME BENCH IS EXPECTED SOON

WASHINGTON—Although official information is withheld, some of President Harding's closest advisers expect him to nominate former President Taft for chief justice of the United States in the very near future.

In some quarters it is believed the official announcement of the selection of Mr. Taft might be made Thursday. There are many considerations entering into the choice, however, and among officials high in the administration, the belief prevailed no nomination would go in until after the fourth of July recess of congress.

TARIFF BILL COMES FIRST SAYS HARDING

WASHINGTON—President Harding is understood to have taken a firm stand during a conference with house leaders that no legislation should be attempted that would delay enactment of the tariff and revenue bills. The president was said to be keenly solicitous that both the senate and house give priority to these two measures and expedite action on them.

AMERICAN LEGION PICKS W. C. STREHL AS VICE COMMANDER

Chief of La Crosse Post is Honored by Election at State Encampment in Eau Claire

AMERICANISM COMMITTEE'S RECOMMENDATIONS ADOPTED

Sheboygan Man Commander; Beloit Gets Next Convention

La Crosse service men were honored at the state encampment of the American Legion, at Eau Claire, by the selection of William C. Strehl, commander of Roy L. Vingers post, as one of the three vice-commanders of the Wisconsin department. Dr. E. J. Barrett of Sheboygan was elected commander.

Bailey Ramsbell of Eau Claire and Harvey Hickey of Marinette, also were named vice commanders.

Rev. August Gerhardt of Milwaukee was chosen chaplain and Newell Williams of Superior and Robert Hines of Milwaukee, were selected masters at arms. Beloit was selected Wednesday as the next meeting place.

Austin A. Peterson was appointed department finance officer and adjutant, and the appointment was confirmed by the executive committee at a meeting yesterday.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

One member of state executive committee from each congressional district—First, W. A. Foster of Belknap; second, Wallace Thayer of Watertown; third, H. C. McCarthy of Milwaukee; fourth, J. F. Burns of Milwaukee; fifth, O. T. McMahon of Milwaukee; sixth, Edward Gary of Rockville; seventh, V. W. Neils of Neillsville; eighth, A. S. Rhoades of Marshfield; ninth, L. Hugo Keller of Appleton; tenth, E. B. Mahle of Chippewa Falls; eleventh, John Forzyce of Butternut.

The office of department adjutant and department finance officer, formerly two elected offices but consolidated into one yesterday by amendment to the constitution, will be filled by appointment by the department commander.

By a rising vote, the convention adopted resolution of sympathy with the family of Colonel Frederick W. Galbraith, Jr., late national commander of the American Legion. An engrossed copy of the resolution will be sent to Mrs. Galbraith.

FOR REAL AMERICANISM

The convention adopted the recommendations of the Americanism committee to make each post more active in the interest of local government for the interests of all; favoring better schools, with adequate salaries for teachers, and good school buildings; favoring recreation; respecting the ordinances of the local government; with the same loyalty as the constitution of the United States, encouraging the Boy Scout movement and extending welfare to all unfortunate.

Other resolutions adopted included resolutions of thanks to the press of the state, to the Women's Auxiliary, to the state officers and executive committee, to the G. A. R., and to the Spanish War Veterans.

On motion of Major R. P. Sorenson of Eau Claire, the convention voted to instruct all local posts of the legion to drape their colors in mourning out of respect to the late national commander.

COMBINE OFFICES

The constitutional provision for the combination of the offices of adjutant and finance officer in the person of one man appointed by the department commander, was adopted at the suggestion of R. M. Klesner, the national finance officer, to promote greater efficiency. Another important constitutional change made Wednesday was that providing for the suspension of any department officer for cause by the executive committee. The suspended officer has the right of appeal to the next department convention.

A vote of various posts formed an interesting and profitable interlude. Warren was mentioned as having 25 members and a club house worth $5,000; Fond du Lac told of raising $7,400 by a social function that cost $15 admission and required evening clothes; and Appleton, Milwaukee told of raising a cottage for holidays of legion men at the lake.

Acceptance of the constitution consumed most of the afternoon. Argument on whether the department adjutant finance officer should be appointive or elective caused brisk discussion that finally culminated in acceptance of appointive choice. It was unanimously voted to request Wisconsin congressmen and senators at Washington to further all measures now up backed by American Legion, including Sweden bill, amended to give discretionary powers to sub officers as well as regional; adjustment compensation bill; Kenyon bill on vocational training; St. John bill for retired emergency officers; all measures for hospitalization, and rights, sedition, and amendments to make privileges of G. A. R. applicable to American Legion.

GOVERNOR PLANNING INSPECTION TRIP TO STATE INSTITUTIONS

MADISON, Wis.—Governor Blaine will make a personal inspection trip through all of the state institutions this summer. If plans made by him are carried out, the governor wishes to acquaint himself with the condition of the state and to come into touch with all of its institutions.

His intention is to first take the trip outlined for governors over the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway, scheduled to start July 11. Following this he will go to a vacation, to be spent in becoming more familiar with Wisconsin's organizations from first hand.

There is a possibility that the legislature may interfere with some of the plans should it be called back within the next week or so. The itinerary of his trip has not yet been made out.

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—Chairman Robert L. Doherty of the New Jersey boxing commission issued the permit for the Carpenter-Dempsey contest to the New Jersey Athletic club and Tex Rickard last night.

MONTREAL—The tour of the United States by the Scottish football team next month may be delayed because American government regulations cannot be complied with at time.

"SO LONG LETTY"—RIVOLI

A big audience at the Rivoli theater last evening enjoyed the treat of the season when "So Long Letty," the Robertson-Cole super-special, was shown for the first time. A bang-up comedy-drama of the first water, the new photoplay is one of the best efforts of Al Christie, the producer and director.

T. Roy Barnes, the musical comedy star, Colleen Moore, Walter Hiers and Grace Darmond play the four principal roles in the picture. "So Long Letty" was adapted to the screen from the Oliver Morosco play of the same name which carried Charlotte Greenwood to a triumphal success from coast to coast.

The story of "Letty" has to do with two couples—newlyweds—who find they are of decidedly different temperaments. Just how the husbands suggested divorce and a change of wives to remedy this evil, brings about many interesting situations. To find out how successfully the scheme worked, you'll have to see the picture. There are some bathing girls who are worth the price of admission.

"So Long Letty" plays at the Rivoli until Saturday.

MAY ALLISON—CASINO

Four blocks of the Hollywood business district were roped off one day for the filming of sensational scenes of fire apparatus in action for "Held in Trust." May Allison's Metro production, at the Casino today.

The complete equipment of the Hollywood fire department participated in the scenes, which were taken near the fire headquarters. Eight cameras were utilized in the filming of the motorized fire trucks and engines as they came out of their buildings and raced around corners to the blaze. Miss Allison and two hundred extra people took part in the scenes. Miss Allison does the rescue act in this episode of the picture, as she saves the life of her little pet dog by grabbing him from under the wheels of a fire truck.

JACK PICKFORD—STRAND

Laurel Belmore, who plays the million-millionaire father of Harry Bullwinkle (Jack Pickford), in the Goldwyn picture, "The Man Who Had Everything," at the Strand today, is shown in frequent close ups with his contagious chuckle. He can summon it at will by recalling this incident:

When he was a member of Henry Irving's company in London, Belmore with other young members of the cast each week put on a Shakespearean matinee for the benefit of the workmen's clubs outside the city. After one of these programs, the young actors barely caught the last train to London. As Belmore boarded the steps in a flying leap he encountered a portly dame. Giving her a boost with his sturdy young shoulders he scrambled after, gasping triumphantly. "Well, we made it, didn't we?" "Made it, young man!" exclaimed the matron in hysterical indignation as the train thundered on its way. "I was trying to get off!"

EPSOM SALTS LIKE GLASS OF LEMONADE

If you want epsom salts without the awful taste and nausea, ask your druggist for a handy package of "Epsomade Salts" which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts, because it is real epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade.

Take a tablespoonful in a glass of cold water whenever you feel bilious, headachy or constipated. "Epsomade Salts" is the much talked of discovery of the American Epsom Association.

"The Great Redeemer," at the Riviera theater, was born in the country "out where the west begins" and as such is well able to depict the western type of girl that she portrays in "The Great Redeemer." Miss Daw started her screen career with Universal. This, however, was after she had attended Westlake school in Colorado Springs, her birthplace. With all the celebrating going on, the picnics, parades and speeches, and everybody looking after little Johnny and his fire works—nobody wants to stay in the kitchen and fuss over a hot stove. But just the same, everybody has an out-door appetite that needs special attention.

This has been attended to in the spotless kitchens of Heinz. Special attention as to convenience, good taste, good health and economy has been put into every can of Heinz Baked Beans.

But the Fourth of July is only one day of the year—and Heinz Baked Beans are just as appropriate for the other 364. Just as delicious, just as healthful, just as convenient; and more economical the more you buy.

DEMPSEY LEAVES ON FRIDAY FOR PRIVATE RESIDENCE IN JERSEY

Champion's Place of Residence Friday Night is a Guarded Secret

DOES NOT DISPLAY SIGNS OF BEING ON "EDGE" TODAY

Faces Important Battle of His Career Saturday

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—This is a day for Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion. Before dawn this evening Dempsey will be secluded amid the strange surroundings of a private residence in Jersey City, perhaps to face a night that may seem endless; there to remain until he faces Georges Carpentier in the battle of his life Saturday afternoon.

Everything is in readiness for the champion's departure. The exact hour, however, has not been divulged. Where Dempsey will sleep in Jersey City Friday night is also a guarded secret. The location will not be revealed even to the champion himself.

Dempsey Happy
Confined for two months' training, Dempsey is happy in this liberation and more like a boy brimming over with anticipation than a heavyweight champion facing the most important battle of his career. He revealed his happy, care-free state of mind Thursday when he sat on the front porch of his house and for more than two hours took part in a conversation that included a variety of subjects. While a driving rain beat on the huge field surrounding his camp, the pugilist laughed heartily and joked with a small circle of friends, frequently taking a friendly nap at who ever might be within range.

The rain prevented all exercise except a long walk in the morning. After playing cards with his handlers last night and reading telegrams containing messages of good luck, the title-holder went to bed at 9:30 o'clock and care-takers are authority for the statement that the champion slept soundly for nearly nine hours.

Is Unusual Champion
Dempsey is an unusual champion in at least one conspicuous respect. Virtually on the eve of his engagement with Carpentier, he is displaying none of that grouching and unapproachability that traditionally has come to be regarded as the conclusive proof of a fighter being on "edge" for an important battle. The development of irritability has long been considered necessary to the attainment of prime physical condition.

This does not hold true with Dempsey. What some of those around him consider an annoyance, Dempsey accepts as an amusing interruption. With hundreds of casual acquaintances and strangers meeting him every day he has preserved a cordiality and heartiness which his associates have lost.

Final preparations for the departure to Jersey City were completed soon after breakfast Friday. Expressmen were busy hauling trunks to the station. All outstanding accounts with the sporting partners, cooks and other attaches of the camp were settled up and the keys of the two houses, which have been Dempsey's camp during the ten weeks' training, were turned over to their owners.

Dempsey's three Belgian police dogs, which have been with him during the training and already are in Jersey City. They were taken to the champion's limousine by his brother, Bernard Dempsey, Thursday.

"Don't forget to let them out once in a while for a brief run," was the champion's final instructions as the big car rolled away, with the dogs poking their heads out of the windows.

RULES TO GOVERN TUG-O-WAR BETWEEN FIREMEN AND POLICE

The tug-o-war between the police and fire departments on the Fourth of July will be governed by the following rules:

Each team shall consist of eight men.

Before the teams pull, the rope shall be held taut with the center marker on the rope directly over a center line on the ground.

A distance of six feet shall be marked off on the rope on each side of the center mark with corresponding marks on the ground at these distances. This territory shall be called, "neutral territory."

To win, a team must pull the other a distance of six feet, or until the center mark on the rope is over or past the six foot mark on the ground.

Participants cannot intentionally lay on the ground, or wind the rope around the body.

No spiked or cleated shoes will be allowed. Rosin may be used on the hands.

To carry off the honors of the day in the event, a team must pull the best two out of three.

SPECIAL SERVICE TO FLASH DETAILS OF TITULAR FIGHT HERE

Fight returns, dictated by a boxing expert from the ringside at Jersey City to a wire direct into La Crosse, will be received at the Tribune and Leader-Press office on Saturday afternoon.

Every blow, every incident of the world's championship match will be instantly flashed to this city for the benefit of the newspaper's sporting clients.

Every detail of the big battle will be bulletined in the Fifth street windows of the Tribune and Leader-Press. The special service—the fastest obtainable through the Associated Press—will begin shortly before noon on Saturday, when the gates are opened in Tex Rickard's big arena. A special crew of fight experts at the ringside will transmit every happening from that time until the final round of the championship match to the special wire leading direct to the Tribune and Leader-Press office. The service is expected to be the most rapid and complete ever offered in La Crosse for a similar event.

LA CROSSE LOSES TO WEST SALEM IN TWILIGHT CONTEST

Locals Trimmed in Final Inning of Game by a Score of 6 to 5

The La Crosse baseball club was defeated by the West Salem aggregation on the latter's field in a twilight game Thursday evening by a score of 6 to 5. "Chalky" Squires, old timer in baseball here, hurled eight innings for the local team. Despite his years, "Chalky" still displayed his ability to burn 'em over and was credited with hurling a good game.

Shotten of Ashton pitched for the home team and was hit freely by the local batsmen. La Crosse took the lead in the scoring and with a tie score, lost in the ninth frame when Wilson's peg went wild at first.

The game was played before a crowd of spectators from the entire surrounding territory. Many cars from La Crosse accompanied the team.

OPACCO MIDGETS DEFEAT GRAND X MIDGETS, 10 TO 1

The Opacco Midgets of Onalaska defeated the Grand Crossing Midgets at Agric grounds Wednesday evening by a score of 10 to 1. Olson pitched for Opacco's dropped sixteen men at the plate, Nelson of Grand Crossing dropped 5.

Olson's home run with McKenzle on base, knocked the spirit out of the visiting team in the first inning.

Batteries: Nelson and Olson; Olson and McKenzle.

LIGHT EXERCISE ON WORK PROGRAM OF CHALLENGER DAY BEFORE TITLE FIGHT

MANHASSETT, N. Y.—Only light exercise was on the work program of Georges Carpentier today and to keep his mind off tomorrow's battle. Trainer Wilson prescribed phonograph music, a walk through the woods and a long automobile ride. The camp was besieged by an army of last minute well-wishers, but they met stout resistance at the gate, in a squad of county policemen and camp attaches, and were turned away.

This of all days, Trainer Wilson said, was to be a day of peace for the challenger and he was not to be bothered even by personal friends. All members of the camp were busy getting things in order for the morning. Everybody was champing at the bit in their impatience, but there was only a slight display of real nervousness.

This was on the part of Manager Descomps, who appeared to be "up in the air" because of a number of telephone calls. He said there had been no less than seventy-five up to noon and that he had been asked all the foolish questions imaginable.

Some fellow who said he was going to bet on Carpentier wanted to talk to the challenger himself and ask his advice. A woman thought Descomps rude because he refused an invitation for the challenger to attend an ice cream social tonight.

Although he declined to say what plans had been made for after the fight, Descomps said the camp here would be retained. Trainer Wilson will be placed in charge and will condition Ledoux, the French, bantamweight champion, and Paul Journe, the big heavyweight. It is also probable that Mariel Denis, the French lightweight, will train here under the supervision of Wilson. Should Georges win his fight with Dempsey, it is almost certain that he will come to this country later and make Manhassett his headquarters, if only temporarily.

LA CROSSE NEWS CO. DEFEAT LEVY'S AT REDFIELD DIAMOND

The La Crosse News company defeated Levy's in baseball at Twelfth and Redfield streets Thursday evening by a score of 16 to 5. The feature of the game was the sixteen strikeouts and a home run by Christofer, pitcher for the winning nine.

FRANCES C. RICHES IS GUEST OF HONOR AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

ON THURSDAY afternoon Mrs. Arthur D. Kirk, 920 South Seventh street, entertained in compliment to the sixth birthday of her niece, little Miss Frances C. Riches of Hastings, Minn. Games and fancy dancing featured the pleasures of the afternoon and a dainty luncheon was served. The favors were awarded as follows: fancy dancing, Miss Ellen Drake; vocal music, Miss Helen Bartel and Miss Grace Muth; spelling, Miss Evelyn Mydel. The guests were the Misses Frances Riches, Dorothy Berger, Bernice Stritt, Evelyn Mydel, Ellen Drake, Grace Muth, Frances Weber, Fern and Helen Bartel and Harold Britting.

MR. AMOS J. OAKES and daughter, Jane Marie, have returned to their home at Spooner, Wis., after spending the past week visiting Mr. Oakes' mother, Mrs. Jane Oakes, and his sister, Mrs. Willis Lockman, 1507 Winnebago street.

A PRIVITY WEDDING took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Travis at New Amsterdam at two o'clock, Wednesday, June 22, when their daughter, Grace, became the bride of Edwin Halverson of Kendall. The bride, who was becomingly attired in a white embroidered georgette gown, carrying a shower of Ophelia roses, was attended by her sister, Margaret. Mr. Ross Le Fleur was best man. Only the immediate relatives and Miss Ruth Henst of Sparta witnessed the ceremony.

A three course dinner was served at six o'clock. The table was attractively decorated in pink, white and green, the color scheme being carried out with pink roses and carnations, combined with ferns and smilax. Mr. and Mrs. Halverson will reside at Kendall.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S society of the Bethel Lutheran church will meet at the church parlors Friday evening, July 1, and will be entertained by the members of the choir. At this meeting election of officers will take place, following which a good program will be presented. Ice cream and wafers will be served. A cordial welcome is extended.

MISS ADRIEL MICHAELSON of West Salem and Mr. Albert Charles Johns of Mormon Coulee were united in marriage at the parsonage of the West Avenue Methodist church by Rev. R. H. Clarke, pastor of the church, Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock. The bride and bridesmaids were attended by Miss Clara Michaelson, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Mr. Edwin Johns, brother of the bridegroom, as best man.

The bride is a graduate of the West Salem high school and has taught in this county for several years. The bridegroom is an overseas man, having served in the Eighty-sixth division. Mr. and Mrs. Johns will be at home to their friends after August 1 on their farm in Mormon Coulee.

THE SMITH VALLEY Home Makers' club met with Mrs. Otto Wolf on Thursday, June 30. Miss Ethel Wolf was in charge of the music. Roll call was responded to by giving some favorite recipe. Miss Miller, food specialist, Madison, was present and gave a talk and demonstration on canning fruits and vegetables. Although the day was intensely hot the members of the club brought vegetables and fruit, which were prepared and canned by Miss Miller. It was a most practical and profitable lesson. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Henry Miller the third week in July.

The dogs will soon have their mad days.

The Principle of a Warm Air Furnace

BECAUSE so many people believe that a warm air furnace is an intricate and almost mysterious device, we feel that a word concerning basic principles of warm air heating will be of benefit.

A warm air furnace is simply a heating unit or stove set in a casing or sheet metal drum in the basement. Large pipes lead from the rooms to the lower part of this drum and several warm air pipes lead from near the top of the drum to the rooms to be heated.

Cold air, being heavier, descends the large cold air pipes, is then heated in the space between the furnace proper and the casing, becomes lighter and ascends thru the warm air pipes to the rooms to replace the air drawn down the cold air pipes.

The different factors entering into the construction and complete installation of a warm air furnace are many. The correct size of the grates, the size of the casing, the proper construction of the heater to guard against leakage of gas and smoke into the living rooms, proper moisture and correct location of cold air and warm air pipes all count and influence the fuel consumption.

We propose to bring to your attention details of construction of the WEIR and to prove conclusively that thirty-five years of experience has enabled the WEIR makers to reach perfection in furnace making.

The WEIR is made by the Meyer Furnace Co., Peoria, Ill.

RECOVERING AFTER FALLING TWICE ON HIGH VOLTAGE WIRE

MADISON, Wis.—Falling twice on live wires carrying twenty-two hundred volts, Lawrence Pitzer, Prairie du Chien, will probably live to tell the tale. Pitzer was working on the wires between Lancaster and Bloomington when he came in contact with a high tension wire. He fell a few feet on to another heavy voltage wire and then to the ground. He was lying when picked up and doctors claim that he will probably recover.

Lifesavers Use Tractors

The caterpillar tractor is now used in some of the Government Life Saving Stations of England in the launching of life boats in the surf. The operation is accomplished in less time and with less danger to the crew.

FORMER DRY AGENT ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF ACCEPTING BRIBE

MILWAUKEE.—Joseph Wray, formerly an inspector in the office of Thomas A. Delaney, federal prohibition director for Wisconsin, was arrested Thursday on an indictment returned by the federal grand jury. Wray is charged with accepting a bribe of $2,000 in return for his aid in getting a permit for a certain man to transact business as a wholesale liquor dealer. The name of the man was not disclosed. The alleged offense was committed April 15.

AUTO THIEF SENT TO STATE REFORMATORY

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Edward Moss, who entered a plea of guilty to a charge of grand larceny for the theft of an automobile, was sentenced to two years in the Green Bay reformatory by Municipal Judge N. J. Monahan.

Edwards' two brothers, Albert and Ernest, also charged with grand larceny, pleaded not guilty and their cases were adjourned until July 5. Bond was fixed at $1,000.

The vacation days comes when you and yours broke.

Is Your Wife Your Companion—or Your Servant?

DON'T let your wife tire herself out two or three times a week mixing and baking bread when you can get bread like MOTHER'S. She should be your partner in home management, and shouldn't be forced to work like that for nothing—Because it's no cheaper to bake at home than it is to buy MOTHER'S BREAD. The same high quality of ingredients which we use, if purchased and made into bread in the home, with the added expense for baking, would cost you more than our finished product. Because—and remember it—MOTHER'S BREAD is only

14c per loaf

PROPOSED BONDING ORDINANCE.
The following ordinance received its first and second readings at the adjourned regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of La Crosse, held on June 1, 1921, and was referred to the committee on Judiciary, and will be presented to the Common Council at its regular meeting to be held on the 8th day of July, 1921, or at a later regular meeting.

AN ORDINANCE REPEALING ORDINANCE No. 457 and providing for the issue of Thirty Thousand Dollars of Bonds for the purpose of extending the water system of the city of La Crosse.

The Common Council of the City of La Crosse do ordain:

Section 1. Ordinance No. 457 of the City of La Crosse, entitled "An Ordinance providing for the issue of Thirty Thousand Dollars of Bonds for the purpose of extending the water system of the city of La Crosse," is hereby repealed.

Section 2. For the purpose of providing funds for the extension of the water system of the City of La Crosse, the City of La Crosse is authorized to borrow the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000) upon the credit of said City and issue the same in the form of bonds of said City of La Crosse in the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000) consisting of thirty thousand bonds, each numbered consecutively from one (1) to thirty (30) both inclusive.

Section 3. Said bonds shall be styled "City of La Crosse Bonds" and shall be dated July 1, 1921, and shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and July each year and the balance at maturity upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons which shall be annexed to said bonds, both principal and interest thereon to be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the City of La Crosse, and the City of La Crosse shall be bound to pay the same.

Section 4. Said bonds shall be signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the City Clerk and the seal of the said City of La Crosse shall be affixed thereto and the coupons thereto attached, which shall be signed with the lithographed signature of the Mayor and City Clerk. Said bonds shall be substantially in the following form, to-wit:

BLAINE IS URGED TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION IN FALL

Adjourn Now Without Further Consideration of Taxes

Advice to Governor

MADISON, Wis.—Governor Blaine is being urged by some of his close followers to favor the adjournment of the present legislature without further consideration of the tax problem and then prepare for a special session around state fair time.

Whether or not the governor is willing to accept this advice is not known, but in any event it is almost certain that he will not have a special message ready for the members when they reconvene on Tuesday. The time available before then will not give him an opportunity to consider the figures placed before him thoroughly.

Some of his close followers in the assembly have told the Governor that it would be a wise move not to call back the legislature at this time because of the desire of members to get back to their work at home.

Other advisers urge that the tax problem be taken up at once and disposed of.

Wage reductions seem "the unkindest cut of all."

TANK TOWN MANAGERS RING DOWN CURTAIN ON OLDTIME THRILLER

CHICAGO, Ill.—"Nellie—the Beautiful Gloom Model" is dead. She and her sisters of melodrama, heroines of the gallery gods of the one night stands, were officially buried Thursday by the Central Managers' association, representing "opera houses" in more than fifty "Tank towns."

"The curtain has been rung down on the showmen thrillers of the past, the theater owners said, and Main street on the prairie wants the same shows New York and Chicago see."

"We are going to insist that some of the Broadway stars stop off at our towns after this," Nathan Appell, secretary of the association, said.

Marry in haste and repent the same way.

Writes Letter That is Worth Reading

Very Carefully

Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y. I was afflicted with a very sore sore on my leg for years. I am a teamster. I tried all medicines and salves but without success. The doctors, but they failed to cure me. I couldn't sleep for many nights from pain. Doctors said I could not live more than two years. Finally Peterson's Ointment was recommended to me and by its use the sore was entirely healed. Thankful years. I am now a West Park, Ohio, March 22, 1915, care P. G. Reitz, Box 130.

Peterson says: "I am proud of the above letter and have hundreds of others and tell of wonderful cures of Bozoma, Piles and Skin Diseases."

Peterson's Ointment is 25 years a cure for all diseases and there is a broad-minded druggist in America that won't praise it. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

This bond is issued by said City for the purpose of providing funds for permanent street improvements in the City of La Crosse, in accordance with the provisions of an ordinance duly passed by its Common Council and in full compliance with the provisions of the laws of the State of Wisconsin in such cases made and provided, and in particular Sections 22-11 and 24-2 of the Wisconsin Statutes together with all acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto.

And it is hereby certified and recited that all acts, conditions and laws required by the constitution and laws of the State of Wisconsin in such cases made and provided, and in particular Sections 22-11 and 24-2 of the Wisconsin Statutes together with all acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, have been done, happened and performed in regular and due form and to the satisfaction of the said City, including this bond, does not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation and no provision has been made for the collection of a direct annual tax in addition to all other taxes on all the taxable property in said City sufficient to pay interest thereon as the same falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof at maturity, and the following is a true statement of the indebtedness of said City, of the amount of the assessment of the taxable property for each of the three years next preceding their issue, and of the average amount thereof:
